If there are any Pending Requests that require your attention they will be shown here. You can get Help, Reject or Approve the pending request by clicking one of the three buttons appearing within that request.

Examples of pending requests that you may receive -

- An agent may request access to a currently tenanted property. Once you approve this request the agent will then have access to view that property within MiWater.

Allocated Properties

A list of the properties that have been linked to your registration will be displayed. For the majority of users that own a single property, this summary will show only one property. If you have rental properties then these will be displayed once you have registered them in MiWater.

Also visible on this screen are properties that are awaiting confirmation of registration, properties attached under the role of tenant or agent and past or inactive properties. The address and assessment number of the property is displayed on the left. The last seven days of water usage and a graph of the last 24 hours is shown on the right along with a number of icons that provide more detail. When you move your mouse over a property, it will be highlighted. Clicking on a highlighted property will open the Detailed Property View for that property.

The following icons may appear against a property to denote specific characteristics or alerts related to water usage at that address –

-  The property has been assessed as having high consumption.
-  The property has been assessed as having a potential leak.
-  This property shares its water meter(s) with other assessments.
-  This property contains multiple water meters.
-  This property is marked as tenanted.
-  This is a past property for which you have limited access.
-  A user is awaiting for you to approve or reject their request for tenant registration.
-  This is a past property for which you have no access.
-  Your request to register this property as owner is currently pending approval.
-  No recent water data has been received for this property.
-  You have marked this property as your home.
