Disability Inclusion Action Plan

2017-2021

About this report

The 2017-2020 Disability Inclusion Action Plan Annual Report provides a summary of performance against key Indicators actions in relation to inclusion and accessibility issues and the objectives identified by the community of the Lithgow Local Government Area in the Disability Inclusion Action Plan 2017-2021. This report should also be read in conjunction with the Lithgow City Council Annual Report – A Year in Review, 2017/18, 2018/19, 2019/20 and 2020/21 available on Council's website <http://council.lithgow.com/ipr/>

Legislation

In 2014, the NSW Government passed the NSW Disability Inclusion Act 2014 (DIA), which required all local government organisations to develop a Disability Inclusion Action Plan by 1 July 2017. By developing a Disability Inclusion Action Plan, Council is better placed to remove barriers and enable people with disability to participate equally in their communities.

Lithgow Disability Inclusion Action Plan Reporting

In 2017/18, Lithgow City Council's Annual Report – A Year in Review was changed to include progress against the Disability Inclusion Action Plan 2017-2021 Indicators available for viewing on Council's website <http://council.lithgow.com/ipr/>.

Guiding Principles

The aim of the Disability Inclusion Action Plan is to outline precise strategies and actions that will help Council achieve its inclusion goals over the next four years. This will allow people with disability to have better access to the services, information and facilities offered by Council.

The Plan takes a holistic approach and includes actions for all areas of Council. By implementing the actions in the Plan, not only will people with disability benefit, but older people, people with acute or short-term injuries, and parents with young children will also benefit. Therefore, this Plan is based on the broader guiding principles outlined in the United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities, which includes:

- Full and effective participation and inclusion in society
- Accessibility
- Equality of opportunity
- Non-discrimination
- Respect for difference and acceptance of persons with disabilities as part of human diversity and humanity
- Principles of Universal Design

The Case for Inclusion

In addition to the human rights imperative the case for an inclusive community is strong:

- As a community, we are poorer without a diverse range of viewpoints and individual perspectives.
- Exclusion leads to disadvantage and discrimination, which have far reaching negative impacts across all aspects of life, including health, welfare, education and employment.

These impacts are felt beyond the individual, with families and the broader community being negatively impacted by a non-inclusive community.

- There is a strong economic imperative for increasing the inclusiveness of our society. Employment can provide independence, reduce reliance on government income support and improve the living standards of people with disability. This can also have positive health impacts and contribute to a greater sense of self-worth.
- Providing physical access to businesses benefits not only people with disability, but older people, parents with prams and business owners by expanding their business reach.
- With an ageing population there is a growing need to not simply create places for older people, but to ensure that all places are designed to support people regardless of age.
